

I am thoroughly disgusted that Sinclair Broadcast Group has managed to air one minute of the "documentary" on John Kerry. Give me a break! We are not a stupid people, but laziness may be the end of us. I expect the FCC to deal with the big issues and I should have written when all of that nonsense was taking place about Janet Jackson. Inappropriate, yes. Worth all of the outrage...no.

This Sinclair foolishness, however, is exactly why we need a government watchdog. A sleeping watchdog however doesn't do anyone any good.

Sinclair should be slapped and slapped good. They know what they did and my guess is it was under the "it is easier to ask forgiveness than ask permission" guise.

Media consolidation is a major threat to our democracy and those rights we hold dear. I ask the FCC to step up and act with the authority and responsibility that is yours.

Thank you.
